Our Expectations

All students have the right to achieve their personal best in an environment where mutual respect is evident and where all students recognise their responsibility for the welfare of others.

It is therefore our expectation that every student:

Respects the rights of teachers to teach and students to learn, not disrupting the learning of other students in any way.

Shows a positive attitude by ensuring work is completed to a high standard and is handed in on time.

Is polite to members of staff and follows their instructions without argument.

Is punctual to lessons and has the correct equipment.

Does not engage in any form of bullying or intimidation, and reports this behaviour to a member of staff.

Wears the correct school uniform at all times.

Leaves lessons only with written permission from a teacher.

Behaves safely and sensibly when moving around the school site and at break times.

Does not bring in anything unsafe which might cause harm to another person.

Does not smoke or vape on the way to or from school, or on the school site, or interfere with fire safety equipment including fire doors.

Does not use a mobile phone or other electronic entertainment device without permission on the school site during school hours.

Treats all school visitors and members of the local community with respect and courtesy.

Represents the school appropriately whilst on school trips or in public.

Cooperates fully with members of staff by telling the truth.

Respects school sanctions imposed as a result of breaking a school rule.

Behaviours for Learning

We promote and encourage the eight core values we believe will ensure progress and success for all our students:

- Grit
- Mindfulness
- Gratitude
- Self-control
- Curiosity
- Optimism
- Self-assurance
- Kindness

These core values are promoted in Reflection Time with students' tutors and through assemblies.

Work hard. Enjoy learning. Achieve highly.

Reflection Time

The Reflection Time programme consists of a weekly area of focus. Activities often use a quiz or competitive approach as this is a strong motivator for engagement.

Our weekly Reflection Time Programme allows tutors to support the personal and academic development of students through a range of carefully planned activities.

The key principles of Reflection Time are:

- to fully utilise 125 minutes per week with high quality provision
- to deliver centrally planned sessions
- to be a key vehicle for the delivery of value based education
- to promote literacy and numeracy using the same teaching and learning approaches as lessons
- to support students' wellbeing
- to ensure that students are kept up to date with world news
- to support the delivery of RSHE and Careers education.

Assessment and Reporting

We have regular, rigorous assessments for all year groups throughout the year; all assessment results can be found on our Parental Login Portal, our online reporting system.

Students in all year groups have two assessments during the year and reports are sent to parents twice a year.

Subjects are graded as Exceeding expectation, Meeting expectation or of Concern. Reports show three pathways: Independent, Scaffolded or Guided, indicating the range of GCSE targets to work towards. Reports also show assessment results.

The Parental Login Portal requires a username and password to access the system. These will be issued upon joining the school. If you have lost your login details, please contact Reception on 023 9261 2020.

Home Learning

Home Learning is an integral part of the school's teaching and learning. It is part of the curriculum in all years and for all students.

We believe that Home Learning has value in teaching our students vital life skills such as independence, personal organisation, reliability and self-discipline. It teaches them to see the value of hard work and that hard work leads to success. It also supports the teaching and learning programme, reinforcing skills learnt in school and encouraging recall of key concepts and information. Home Learning is necessary for the delivery of the full curriculum and therefore raises standards and helps students meet or exceed their target grades.

Parents have a vital role in supporting their child's completion of Home Learning tasks. Home Learning tasks are set on ClassCharts and can be reviewed by parents and students. Parents will be able to see the task set, resources provided by the teacher, deadlines, whether the work has been submitted and any grades awarded by the teacher.

If you have a question about Home Learning, please contact the subject teacher.

Attitudes to Learning

Students are graded on a 1-5 scale for their Attitude to Learning (ATL) based on our School Values:

- Grit
- Mindfulness
- Gratitude
- Self-control
- Curiosity
- Optimism
- Self-assurance
- Kindness

Students are also graded on a 1-5 scale for their Attitude to Home Learning (ATH) with the following criteria:

1. Engaged
2. Committed
3. Compliant
4. Apathetic
5. Disengaged

Work hard. Enjoy learning. Achieve highly.

Behaviour and Rewards

We operate a values-based and rewards approach to student behaviour, which is based on the rights and responsibilities of the child.

This is to encourage our students to take more responsibility for their learning, their environment and others around them. This approach is based on positivity with clear rewards and sanctions that students take responsibility for, rather than being imposed on them.

Behaviour

Teachers set their expectations with students at the beginning of the school year, and remind students of them and the key values frequently. Students are encouraged to exceed these expectations throughout their lessons in order to learn to the best of their ability and to support the learning of others. We do not tolerate low-level disruption and will sanction students who slow down the pace of learning for others.

Rewards

Our Rewards system is intrinsically linked to our eight key values of Grit, Optimism, Self-Control, Kindness, Self-Assurance, Mindfulness, Gratitude and Curiosity and our three curriculum strands of Thinking Hard, Understanding Diversity and Developing Character. There are many ways in which teachers recognise and celebrate students consistently displaying one or more of our values in lessons. Verbal praise and recognition is often quick and effective and can be useful in building relationships with the students.

When a student exceeds the teacher's expectations, staff can reward students using a points system. Up to three Praise Points can be given per lesson for displaying one or more of our values. Praise Points are centrally added up and students receive certificates and rewards for achieving key milestones. Students can also spend their Praise Points to purchase items from the Rewards Store.

Rewards

Parents can log into ClassCharts to see how many Praise Points their child has been awarded.

Students are issued with certificates when they reach specific Milestones and can use their Praise Points to purchase items from the Rewards Store.

Students are congratulated every half term in special Celebration Assemblies.

Reward events are organised throughout the year to celebrate students' positive attitudes and achievements.

Work hard. Enjoy learning. Achieve highly.

We would recommend that push notifications are enabled for ClassCharts so you are notified when there is a new message that requires your attention.

We also use email and telephone calls to communicate with parents. Personalised letters will be sent via email, and therefore we would request that you ensure we have a valid email address and mobile phone number for you.

Staff email addresses can be found in the About Us section of the school website www.cowplainschool.co.uk.

Work hard. Enjoy learning. Achieve highly.

Attendance

Full details of our Attendance Policy can be found on the school website.

Great attendance is essential to ensure that students benefit from the maximum number of learning opportunities. We know that students who attend regularly get more from their education, take part in a wider range of activities, achieve better examination results relative to their ability and find better employment than those who do not attend regularly.

Therefore, it is our joint responsibility as adults to make sure that each child attends as often as possible. In addition, we must work to ensure that students arrive in school and at lessons on time and that all timetabled activities begin on time.

With great attendance comes great attainment. Data published by the Department for Education shows that 84% of students who attended school every day achieved the expected progress standard, compared to 40% of students who were persistently absent.

When a student has poor attendance other issues can develop including a drop in self-confidence and sometimes barriers appear regarding returning to school. At Cowplain, if a student is not in school and their attendance levels drop we have a legal responsibility to investigate to find out why and to help improve matters quickly. Please take the time to view the information contained in the Attendance Policy, which explains the framework we operate within to manage attendance at The Cowplain School.

How can parents/carers encourage good attendance?

- Expect your child to go to school every day and ensure that they know this.
- Ask your child about their day at school and talk about what they might be doing in the future.
- Approach the school, sooner rather than later, if you have issues with attendance.
- Arrange routine appointments outside of the school day.

Absence Reporting

To report a student's absence, please use the ClassCharts "Report new absence" option or phone the Attendance Line before 8.30am on the day of the absence.
